It is with great pleasure that we present you with the statistics publication of the FISU World University Championships and University World Cups for the 2024-2025 season.

Its content represents so much more than just numbers and figures. Behind them, there are so many valuable people who have put their passion towards making each event a success. Of course, we see the fantastic achievements of the student-athletes who stand on the podium, but not often the runners-up, their coaches, the members of their supporting team, their university professors, their families and friends.

We see the members of the International Federations or of the FISU Executive Committee – or sometimes even me – congratulating the winners while putting medals around their necks, but without the hard-working local organising committees together with their universities and National University Sport Federations, without the invaluable help of numerous volunteers, without the contribution of the technical officials and without the advice of the FISU Championships and World Cup department members, with the support of our partners, there would be no winners because there would be no competitions.

The 2024-2025 season kicked off in Switzerland with the Lenzerheide 2024 FISU World University Championship Ski-Orienteering, which was also an optional sport at the Torino 2025 FISU World University Games. One of the season's highlights was the first ever Beach Sports cluster event on the iconic Botafogo beach in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. And Costa Rica hosted its very first FISU World University Championship, with five cycling events being organised on the roads around San Carlos.

A total of 80 National University Sports Federations and 1312 universities took part to the 27 events that rhythmised the season. If we add the officials to the student-athletes, it is over 5000 people who participated in the FISU University World Championships and University World Cups.

I am especially proud to underline that we almost reached gender equality in the student-athletes participation: out of a total of 3935 student-athletes from all continents, 53% were men and 47% women!

I would like to thank everyone involved – the participants, organisers, international sports federations and partners – for their passion and their support in this remarkable range of competitions.

I hope you are able to see the effort, the commitment and the concentration, but also the fun, the friendship and the smiles behind these interesting and useful statistics.

Leonz Eder,
FISU President
