4. ANTI-CHEATING AND FAIR PLAY REGULATIONS

a) Chess

Respect of the fair-play rules and fair use of all the participant is expected.

The fair-play measures are based on resources of the hosting Internet platform (hereinafter referred to as HIP) and follow International Chess Federation's (FIDE) fair-play guidelines. The anti-cheating algorithm used is to be approved by the chief arbiter.

Special Anti-cheating and fair-play regulations

- FISU in consultation with HIP establish a fair-play panel (hereinafter referred to as FPP). The FPP consists of the following fair-play experts: FIDE Fair-Play Commission members, the fair-play experts of HIP, computer scientists and statisticians, chess grandmasters.
- FPP works to ensure fair results for each game. FPP may apply any measures that it considers necessary and sufficient in order to ensure fair-play conditions during the tournament.
- All the players required to be observed via a video conference call by FIDE-affiliated international arbiters for the duration of the tournament. Observation shall include webcam and other requirements per HIP and FIDE arbiter standards. The full and detailed list of necessary technical requirements is to be communicated to all the players 7 days before the start of 1st round.
- Based upon the results of the anti-cheating algorithm and/or other evidence deemed sufficient by FPP to establish a cheating incident, FPP has the right to disqualify any player for a suspected fair-play violation during the course of or a tournament. The disqualified player may be declared lost in all the games he/she played. The decision of FPP to disqualify a player for a suspected fair-play violation is final and not subject to any appeal, review or other challenge.
- In addition, FPP has the right to ban any disqualified player for suspected fair-play violation. Any ban imposed on a player restricts him/her from taking further part in the event regardless of the stage when a violation is discovered.
- Neither FIDE, nor HIP claims that the determination of a suspected fair-play violation is proof of actual cheating or an admission of guilt of by the disqualified or the banned player. Such a determination shall not affect the ordinary status of the player for over-the-board competitions within the jurisdiction of FIDE or its members, unless FPP decides in the case of a clear or gross violation, or repeated violations, to refer the matter to the FIDE Ethics and Disciplinary Commission which may exclude the player from all official chess participation for a period up to 15 years.
- By entering into the tournament each player accepts the above-mentioned Fair-Play measures as a condition of entry in a voluntary sports event and agrees that his or her participation takes place subject to these Fair-Play measures.

Selection of HIP

- The choice of HIP is based on many factors aiming for the best of chess. It takes into account the experience of HIP, its ability to broadcast the tournament at the highest possible level, both from the point of view of anti-cheating security, and experience in commenting and conducting tournaments of the highest level.

- Upon selection of HIP, a contract is to be signed between the OC and HIP regarding all financial and commercial aspects of the event. HIP is required to present all necessary guaranties for the whole amount of the prize fund.

Other

Rules that apply in the case of technical problems:

If disconnection is determined by the HIP to be caused by factors under the player's control and the disconnection occurs mid-game, the player's clock will continue to run as normal until time has expired. HIP will be in touch with the player via digital communication methods and will attempt to guide them through reconnection. In the event the player is not able to reconnect during the game in which they have disconnected, the HIP will continue their efforts until the next round has begun. HIP may, in their sole determination, decide to postpone the round until a later time.

If the fault is a server error or other error not in the player's control (natural disaster, widespread power outage, etc.), HIP will recreate the current position and will reset clocks to the proper time from before the outage or error took place. Upon doing so, the game will continue as normal. In the event the error is not resolved within 1 hour, the HIP may, at their sole determination, decide to postpone the round until a later time.

The Chief Arbiter may decide otherwise in exceptional circumstances.

If any extraordinary cases should arise, the Chief Arbiter will make an appropriate ruling, always in accordance with the letter and spirit of the FIDE Laws of Chess.

The players cannot draw a game by agreement before black's 30th move.

b) Bridge

The Organising Committee has the right to disqualify any team in the case of reasonable suspicion of foul play.

The delay penalties will be published in the "conditions of contest" that will be published before the start of the event. When teams do not show up, it may have severe penalties starting from a warning to exclusion for next FISU and WBF events. After a "no show", an investigation will be done by the Chief Tournament Director and a report will be published to WBF and FISU.
